DETAILED ACTION

Information Disclosure Statement

1. The information disclosure statement (IDS) submitted on December 27, 2005 is in compliance with the provisions of 37 CFR 1.97. Accordingly, the information disclosure statement is being considered by the examiner.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1-10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Bellin (US 6683526).

Consider Claim 1, Bellin clearly teaches and discloses a method for selectively deleting messages received by a radio telephone, the method being effected by the telephone and the method comprising: detecting when the telephone has moved from a previous coverage area to a current coverage area (read as over-the-air registration) (Col. 12, lines 67-68 and Col. 13, lines 1-10); selectively obtaining a set of coverage area specific messages stored in a memory associated with the telephone (Col. 12, lines 15-29), the coverage area specific messages being from a set of messages received when the telephone was in the previous coverage area (read as roving receiver)(Col. 14, line 48); and automatically deleting the coverage area specific messages from the memory (Col. 13, lines 20-32).

Art Unit: 2631

Consider Claim 2, Bellin clearly teaches and discloses a method for selectively deleting messages, as claimed in claim 1, wherein the selectively obtaining is effected by only selecting messages that are presumed to be generic messages (read as group specific)(Col.2, lines 55-58) sent by a service provider of the previous coverage area.

Consider Claim 3, Bellin clearly teaches and discloses a method for selectively deleting messages, as claimed in claim 1, wherein the selectively obtaining is effected by only selecting messages sent from one or more telephone numbers that do not correspond with any numbers stored in a telephone book database of known personal numbers (read as group numbers)(Col. 6, lines 22-37), inserted by a user, that are identifiable by the telephone.

Consider Claim 4, Bellin clearly teaches and discloses a method for selectively deleting messages, as claimed in claim 1, wherein the selectively obtaining is effected by only selecting messages that have a content presumed to include generic advertising (read as a standard industrial classification)(Col. 11, line 63).

Consider Claim 5, Bellin clearly teaches and discloses a method for selectively deleting messages, as claimed in claim 4, wherein the content may be presumed to include generic advertising by searching each of the messages for selected words (read as character string) (Col. 13, lines 46-56).

Consider Claim 6, Bellin clearly teaches and discloses a method for selectively deleting messages, as claimed in claim 1, selectively obtaining may include requesting confirmation (read as send messages back) (Col. 16, line 42) from a user that a message is one of the coverage area specific messages (read as confirmation of latitude and longitude coordinates) (Col. 13, lines 39-44).

Consider Claim 7, Bellin clearly teaches and discloses a method for selectively deleting messages, as claimed in claim 1, wherein the obtaining is effected after arrival of the telephone at the current coverage area (read as after over-the-air registration)(Col. 12, lines 67-68 and Col. 13, lines 1-10).

Consider Claim 8, Bellin clearly teaches and discloses a method for selectively deleting messages (read as containing a character string in the control portion), as claimed in claim 1, wherein the obtaining is effected before the telephone leaves the previous coverage area (read as a roving receiver capable of receiving localized messages (Col. 14, line 48).

Consider Claim 9, Bellin clearly teaches and discloses a method for selectively deleting messages, as claimed in claim 1, wherein the detecting is characterized by detecting that the telephone has moved from the previous coverage area to the current coverage area (read as a roving receiver capable of receiving localized messages (Col. 14, line 48) when there is a change in a service provider (read as not in the selected area)(Col. 12, lines 31-43) cell communicating with the telephone (Col. 12, lines 16-30).

Consider Claim 10, Bellin clearly teaches and discloses a method for selectively deleting messages, as claimed in claim 1, wherein the detecting is characterized by detecting that the telephone has moved from the previous coverage area to the current coverage area (read as not in the selected area)(Col. 12, lines 31-43) when the telephone moves from one cell to another cell (read as a roving receiver capable of receiving localized messages (Col. 14, line 48) or from one country to another country (Col. 12, lines 16-30).

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
